Gan Yam Brew Co are pleased to announce the first edition of their new bi-annual festival LANDMARKS. Taking place at the brewery across three days, there will be live music, DJs, craft stalls, an exhibition, talks and more! Each edition of the festival will have a theme - the first one is “Home” - and the brewery will work alongside an artist who will exhibit work and design a one-off seasonal beer to be launched at the festival. For the first LANDMARKS we are proud to have commissioned Juliet Klottrup, whose work explores themes of youth, landscape, community, rurality, tradition and the relationship between people and place.

The festival opens on Friday night with live music as we welcome psychedelic lo-fi groovers Meadow Meadow and pastoral indie-folk duo lilo to perform at the brewhouse. The Friday night gig is the only ticketed element of the festival with very limited early bird tickets available for £5.50, advance tickets are £8.50 and £10 on the door. Buy tickets here.

On Saturday the brewery will be transformed into an exhibition space to display Juliet Klottrup’s work and we will also launch the first LANDMARKS beer, “Home,” a 10% barley wine brewed with oak chips and featuring exclusive artwork designed by Juliet. Morecambe Bay Chowder Co are providing food for the afternoon and there will be a host of craft stalls displaying the wealth of local talent and produce we have in Cumbria.

On Sunday, we welcome four speakers to the stage for recorded q&a’s to be used in our new podcast which is launching in November ahead of the festival. These talks will navigate the life and work of the guest speakers whilst also exploring their relationship with the festival theme of “home.” We are honoured to have Man Booker Prize nominated author Sarah Hall, artist in residence Juliet Klottrup, graphic designer Mark Edwards (DR.ME) and acclaimed local author Keith Richardson along for the afternoon.

Join us at the brewhouse and use LANDMARKS to navigate music, craft and culture with us for the weekend.
